The Editor's Message

Colleen Corrigan

Included in this yearbook are some of the happy experiences you've enjoyed this past year. In the future, as you leaf through the pages of Flare 72/73 we hope to remind you of forgotten things and help you to relive this wonderful year.

The entire yearbook staff (with cooperation of many of the teaching staff) has worked hard to try to capture some of the activities of this past year. Although it is difficult to portray these onto paper we hope we have captured some of the feelings and spirit of the school year 1972/73.

Administration

As we arrive at the end of another school term, we can look back with pride to a very successful year. In sports, drama, music and all the other extra-curricular activities, there was maximum participation and a high level of performance.

The yearbook staff is to be congratulated for producing this fine book. Their dedication to this project has resulted in a book worth keeping for years to come.

Good Luck to all of you.

JUNIOR GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL

The Junior Girls' Volleyball team started out the season very well. They won all their league games. They lost to Sisler in the division championship. All the girls put forth their best efforts which allowed them to get as far as they did get. Special thanks to Miss Monk who also helped the team on.

SENIOR GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL

The Senior Girls' Volleyball team started in November, reaching into a very successful year. The team was one game away from winning the division championship. All the girls really put forth a tremendous effort while in practice and while playing games. The team would like to thank Mr. Leggero for coaching the team as well as he did.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The Junio High Girls' Basketball team consisting of grades 8 and 9 had a good season, this year, as the Junior Girls' Volleyball team did. The team had four wins and one loss. They were then knocked out in the semi finals by Andrew Mynarski.

St. John's High Track and Field
- A coach's view-

A coach of track and field looks for many qualities in an athlete as he attempts to find those who can jump the highest, run the fastest or throw the farthest.

First, he or she must be intelligent. Track athletes are the smartest in the school. They must be reliable, dedicated and co-operative. Most of all they must be able to work very hard for a goal that is perhaps 2 or 3 years off. That is becoming a track star.

It has been a pleasure this year working with our Tiger Track Team.

Daria Bilash has had an outstanding year in high jump. She has cleared 5 feet consistently in competition. Her season was crowned when she competed in Winnipeg Inter High Track meet. She won the intermediate division and established a new High school record in doing so.

Randy Kapkey and Geza Labady are our shot putters supreme. Geza won the shot (record set) and discus at the Inter Jr. High meet this year. Randy besides throwing the 8 lb. shot 48'6" this year is always the leader at practise, always ready to help new athletes.

Sherri O'Donell and Alice Vanus lead the girls in discus and shot put. Alice Has the leadership necessary to make a track team a success. With her dedication she is the ideal track athlete.

Sheryl Sargent, Paul Werbicki, Bruce Tynes, Borys Procak, and Dannie Sobkowicz and Andrew Jackson our stars of this year will be in grade 10 next year.

Next year a new flock of stars will have to replace those who go on to Sr. High. Cheryl Urso, Alfie Plantz, Della Grabowski, and Corrado Lao, Karen Dinse Stewart Carmicheal, Dave Cham, Mike Siderov, and Fern Higgins will have to show the way for St. John's.

As their coach I would like to thank these and all the athletes I have coached this year. You have been reliable and hard working. Most important you have always conducted yourselves so that you were a credit to St. John's. I will miss you.

O. Cochrane

GYM CLUB

This years Boys' Gym Club did not compete in any events but the boys showed much improvement as they practiced their skills. The team was coached by Mr. Fitzpatrick.

The girls also had a very good year doing well in their events. All the girls did their very best and often, placing first.

(coach), Lorraine Bohl,
Shirley Jacobson, Mitsy
Ceh, Eva Nemath, Debbie
Gurniack, Rose Hamilton
(coach).

WRESTLING

The wrestling club, which was headed by Mr. Sanders, was both fun and interesting for the members. The boys were showed the basic skills in wrestling and were often helped along by Jim Grant. About mid-season a wrestling competition was held at Issac Brock School, where many Junior High Schools attended. Don Grant won the finals in his class, over all other Junior High Schools.

FENCING CLUB

The fencing club this year, which was headed by Mr. Rizzo, was organized primarily for the grade sevens, so that they would learn the basic art of fencing. The club had a total of eight members. Though the art of fencing was to be the subject, the members often thought of it as another form of fighting which is not true. Perhaps in the years to come these members will learn to know fencing for what it is, rather than what it looks like.

CHEERLEADING

The Junior High Cheerleaders were organized in January in order to be able to cheer for the basketball season. The girls met and practiced about three times a week prior to the basketball season and held pregame practices during the season. The group learned about 25 cheers. The captain of the squad was Denise Gushue. Coaches were Joanne Trupp and Rose Hamilton.

CHESS CLUB

This year the chess club was organized by Mr. Yarmey. The champion was Perry Grey and the runner up was George Smith. Other able contestants were Micheal Wiess, Jim Boittiaux, and Jim Brown. Next year we hope to play against players from other schools.

UNITY '83 CHESS CLUB

There were only a few Jr. H's in this club. Come and try it next year, you may win. The champion was John Bogart (A Senior High).

BAND

There are mainly four different kinds of bands. They are the grade 7, 8, and 9 bands and the senior band. The 7, 8, and 9 bands practice three times a cycle and the senior band practices during the lunch hour, three times a week. Junior High students make up a large part of the senior band.

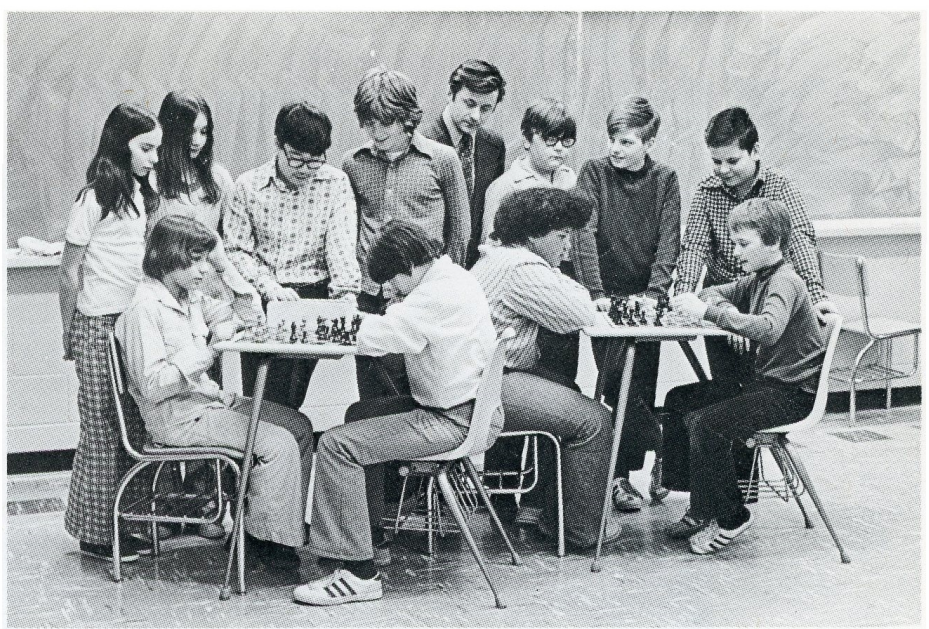

Some members of the senior band played in this year's school production "Ask any girl". The senior band also played at the Christmas festival and at Variaty night, and often traveled to many elementary schools to play for the children there. They also went to Holy Family Nursing Home, to play for the people there. They also attended many concerts at Tech-Voc. The 7, 8, and 9 bands did not go to any of the festivals but often attended the concert that were held at school. Many thanks go to Mr. George, for leading all four bands.

ORCHESTRA

There are mainly three different orchestras, they are the junior, senior, and pops orchestra which has both members of the band and orchestra in it. The orchestras practice on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Fridays, over the noon hour. The pops orchestra plays the more contemporary music while the other two orchestras do not. All three orchestras are conducted by Mr. Blakeman-Welch, who gives up his lunch hours to conduct these orchestras.

Chess Club

First Row- James Poncho,
Michael Weiss, George
Smith, Perry Gray.
Second Row- Anita
Lisecki, Kelly Thompson,
Perry Yamada, Scott
Sargent, Mr. Yarmie
(instructor), Teddy
Liesh, Darrell Lang,
Jim Brown.

Band

First Row- Alan Martyszenko,

J.H. Council

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

The members of the club are as follows: Jerry Wyshniowsky, Russell Pierozinski, Gordon Bortoluzzi, Perry Grey and Frank Unger. This most interesting club was brought into being in Jan./72.

The point of the club is to teach students how to take pictures; how to develop them; and how to take care of your camera. The club teacher in his own interests takes up to any kind of pictures, from gardening to sports.

Mr. Boland plans to continue his successful group of photographers so he may add professionals to his name. He also stated that he is sad to see not a girl in the club. He hopes to see more girls out next year.

COUNCIL REPORT

I cannot honestly say our council has been totally successful this year. Although we've tried our best, it has been impossible to accomplish much without proper support. As a matter of fact the lack of support has been ridiculous! We have been forced to quit calling meetings because of this. Many council reps. complained about the number of meetings called.....several of these were people who don't bother showing up when meetings are called.

All this is really too bad because our president, Bonnie Cham, and our vice president, Debbie Thompson, are a couple of the best we have ever had, or ever will have. With a little more cooperation, Bonnie and Debbie could have done a lot more for us.

In the future I hope all council reps. will remember that unless you intend to attend meetings regularly, you shouldn't run for the position, and that your officers of council can't do everything alone. To be a successful council..... they need your support and cooperation.

THIS YEAR'S J.H. DANCES

The first Junior High Dance, called Rock Revival 1, brought 260 students. On Friday November 17 the dance was held. Drinks were sold and many junior high teachers chaperoned as Mr. Bochinski, Mr. Leggero, Mr. Swandel, Mrs. MacRae, Mrs. Steinfeld, Dr. Vaughan, and many others. Another very active person was Mr. Mutchmore and his wife.

The Unity '73 Dance was held on Friday 23 the day of Unity. The highlight of this dance were the Prince and Princess. They were picked by Dr. Vaughan, Mrs. Taylor, and Mr. Hollinquist. The winners were from 8-111 - Stewart Carmicheal and Sharon Thompson. This dance brought out people. As well drinks were sold by chaperoning teachers.

WINTER CARNIVAL

This year the winter carnival was even better than last year. It drew crowds of people to see such events as a toboggan race, pie throwing contest, perogy eating contest and to highlights the weeks events was the shoot off between our own Matzah Jet and Bobby Hull. Everyone had a really great time as it was shown by the tons of people that gathered in the Senior Gym during the noon hours.

UNITY '73

Feb. 23 was the date of Unity '73. Classes were replaced on this day by more than 50 different activities both educational and fun. Unity started off Thursday night, with a dance for the Senior High, and ended Friday night, with a dance for the Junior High. Events held during the day were, a teacher's mile race, a shmockey game and an obstacle race.

On the educational side of things there were displays from the science department and a special computer display and many others. A French play was shown during the day and a distillery, which showed the art of wine and beer making, was in operation. Different tournaments such as bridge and chess were going on throughout the day. The day ended with the championship game of the Tiger Classic freshmen basketball tournament. The four teams which took part in the tourney were: St. John's, St. James, Mennonite Brethren and the winners of the tournament River East. Prizes for the different tournaments and contests were donated by local businesses. All in all the day was fun for all those who were there.

Big Wind

Our town had received the hurricane warning three days before the storm arrived. Almost all the people of our town had left. A few of my friends and I decided to stay and try to "weather out" there. We had planned to stay in a small gray brick house which seemed to be strong enough to stand up against the wind. We were ready when the hurricane struck. The way it threw the muddy gray bricks around the tore trees and even houses from the ground was astounding. All of a sudden the wind stopped. We walked out side. Everything was in ruin. Trees were lying everywhere and houses seemed torn apart. The whole site seemed covered with birds which could not fly. Too late we realized that we were in the eye of the hurricane.

People

As I walk down a downtown street,
One thousand people I quickly meet,
We never speak, we never see,
That I am a part of each and each a part of me.
Yet we are all one and not the same,
Some seek money some seek fame,
Some are meek and some are bold,
Some people can be bought and sold.
Some are happy some are sad,
Some are good and some are bad,
Some are lazy, some have zeal,
All different but still I feel,
That we are all part of one.

The Dream That Came True

Beside the fire he sits alone,
After the sight all are to moan.
Crying could not help the scene,
All because of a crazy dream.

He woke up one morning very sad,
Remembered the dream and turned sad.
He tried to destroy the thought in his mind,
But to remain sad was all he could find.

He got up so quickly and ran to the door.
A note, gone to the hospital back at four.
With this thought too he got very scared,
And would do anything anyone dared.
He ran to the door and looked in the bed
And saw his small brother deader then dead.

Manners

I asked them if they would pass to me
Two lumps of sugar for my tea.
They looked at me with a funny face
Then they continued to talk to Grace.

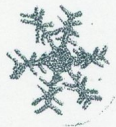

I asked almost with a scream
Will someone shoot down a cup of cream?
They looked at me with deep disgrace
What happened next? They talked to Grace.

Then finally thinking in dismay
This was what I was about to say
Please may I have the sugar and cream
Then all at once like a team

They picked the sugar and gave it to me
The cream was next in my tea
Grace turned to me then did say
Manners are very important these days.

Winter Snow

I do not know if I like snow,
That blows against my face.
The cold and crispy feeling,
Which makes me walk in haste.

Nor do I like the windy days,
Nor the windy nights so brisk.
And if I had to walk at night,
'Twould be a giant risk.

I do not like the dirty snow,
Which lies upon the street.
The mush and slush upon the walk,
That comes from snow and sleet.

But I still know that snow will come,
Sometime throughout the year.
But I still know when April comes,
That spring will soon be here.

"Happiness Is "

In spite of the wind and rain, policewoman Marlone waited patiently in the shadows and she was waiting for a man to make a major arrest. She was pretty and she had blonde hair under her rain bonnet. She wore a black low cut gown under the green coat. She wore knee high, wet look boots that matched her gown. She was posing as a singer while trying to arrest a killer. She had left a note for him to meet her and now she waited. She thought of his nasty features and shuddered. He had steel blue eyes, long nose, high cheekbones, and was of average height. She now heard footsteps but couldn't place from which direction they came. She felt a hand on her shoulder and then heard the news, "He was just caught, Miss." She then cried in happiness.

The Day I Died

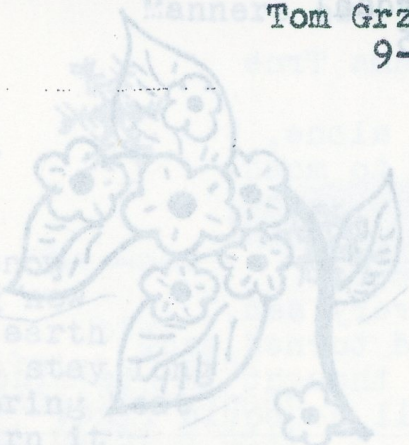

It all began about 2 years ago at camp, I mean the day a strange thing happened to me. That evening there was to be a bingo game in the mess hall. I can remember it all as I sit here writing. It was rest period and I didn't feel like myself. I decided to lay down for a rest (, which is something you never do in a rest period). As it sometimes happens, I fell asleep. Then as I heard later from my friends, the bingo game started. In all the commotion no one noticed that I was missing. After the game all the tired players went back to their cabins. Ruthie reached our cabin first. She absent-mindedly looked in my direction. She jumped and ran out of the cabin screaming something about me being dead. The whole camp stampeded into our cabin. They just had to see me dead. Finally my counsellor reached me and shook me. I turned over and groaned. The cabin full of kids realized I was just asleep and they groaned too. Oh, well they thought, it had been fun while it lasted.

The Saga of a Sailor

Never more he'll sail the sea
Because he is gone, you see,
T'was on a whaler he met his plight,
For on that whaler that very night,
A whale was spotted o'er starboard bow,
The time to strike had to be now,
He got in his boat and rowed to the whale,
With bravery and courage, He was not pale.
He got so close that he could go no more,
So he pulled up the boat and put in the oar,
And got out his spear, and hurled it straight.
Which made the whale go at a terrific gait,
The the whale stopped and turned around,
And help for the sailor, no help was found,
And now you can still hear his moans,
Of this valiant sailor visiting Davy Jones'.

Said a boy to his teacher one day,
It is nearly the end of May.
The children will shout,
And the teacher's will pout
Because it's their last pay day.

Grief

It comes from sad things
And it takes awhile to leave
When it does, we're glad.

Victimized

The dreaded moment had arrived. He made his way into the old house, hoping that his accusation was wrong. As he passed the closet, he was unaware of the hand reaching out. As the body emerged, the victim had his back to the creature. It was about to drain the life from its victim, when the man turned around. "Cut.", yelled the director.

Annoying Your Teacher

To annoy your teacher you should walk in late with no books. Then when you are in class keep making silly remarks, fight your other classmates and run around the room. If that doesn't work, talk and disturb your neighbor and others who are working and get them to join in the fun. Another favorite pastime could be writing notes. Remember the more the merrier. After all this the teacher is bound to crack up. But there are some hard headed teachers, so a chorus of a favorite well known song should work. Try this game yourself. It's lots of fun.

Alan Kowalke

The Soul Survivor

The rapids faced him up ahead,
no chance had he for sure.
Upon that black day in March,
for that noble voyageur.

The winds had started to blow,
not even a fearless thought.
But deep inside his manly conscience,
Escape from death he sought.

But just ahead an Englishman,
While hunting for some game.
Had heard someone hollering,
and looked the source of the same.

Into the river he blundered,
in which the waves he'd bout.
And then grab the canoe securely,
and pull the poor soul out.

Peter Yurkowski

Said a boy to his teacher one day
I would like you to come out and play
You're always here reading
And most of all teaching
So come out and play just today.

What Would One Be Without the Rest?

What would you be without the rest?
Without your teachers and tutors who teach you their best.

Where would you travel, to what place would you go?
Had not the influences of society set out your goals?

Where would you live, what would you eat?
Are the answers suggestions from people you meet?

Of who would you cherish, who'd make you so proud?
Was the person you'd picked not out of the crowd?

This question I ask you, and answer it best,
What would you be without the rest?

Mario Jarmuske

What is Love?

Tell me please, what is love?
Is it when one holds you tight
Placid gentleness, that of a dove
From the break of day to the dusk of night
Tell Me please, what is love?

Is it the feeling of having you near?
A type of security, something to hold,
Although you're not present, your image appears,
At least that's what I've been told.

Tell me please, what is love?
I seek the meaning that is true
Till love is revealed, till it does
I sincerely convey this question to you
Tell me please, what is love?

Speedster

There I was shooting down the road in my brand new gold M.B.G. (GT.), cruising at 90 mph. with the cool wind blowing in my face. I looked back to see a thick black smog coming from the exhaust pipes. I thought nothing of it until I saw an orange flame shoot at from the front hood. I pulled up to the shoulder of the road and took out the fire extinguisher from the glove box. I ran out to fight the blazing fire but it was too late. Seconds after I stepped out of the door,, the gas tank ignited. With a loud "boom" the car was sky-high. It was a long walk back to the city with the sun blistering in my face.

RADAR

The sky is bright, the day is long
The birds were out singing a song.
On the river was a misty fog,
But through it I could see the smog.
But the cars were starting. The air is getting thick
All that smog was making me sick.
The fog was clearing but all I could see
Was the garbage floating down the river freely.
Somewhere there must be a solution.
Now I'll contribute to pollution.

The Toughest Job

"LOVE"

Crying helps the pain
You sleep, wake up, then forget and start a new life.

This is the toughest job I've done,
To write my teacher a poem,
I'd think and think and think all night,
And then I'd stop and groan.

A STREET AT NIGHT

The street of the city was narrow and it looked like a long peice of ribbon stretching across the land. The night was dark. Only the lights on the street were noticable through the thick white fog. Peaks of the houses, that stood on the low hills were almost touching the sky. There was no one on the street to disturb the peace. A dog, far away could be heard barking, breaking the silence of the peaceful night. As I stood there I could feel the breeze of the wind blowing through my hair. The smell of that night was of smoke and burning leaves.

THE LITTLE OLD PEDDLER

From the little shack in the clearing came a thin spiral of smoke."Why that's impossible!"I thought to myself.For years that shack has been abandoned.Cautiously I snuck up to the little window on the door.There warming his hands on a small fire sat a little old man.He saw and asked me kindly to come in.I went in and the old man explained that he was just a peddler.He stopped off here to warm his cold and weary body.We had a cup of coffee. Then the old man picked up his gear.He bade me goodbye. He went on his way trudging through the cold and deep snow.
