Principal's Message

Another year has quickly drawn to a close. This school year has truly been eventful and exciting for those who have chosen to participate in the many opportunities and activities the school and student council organized. The dances, the soc hops, the spirit week activities, the gym riots, the concerts, and musical revue, the many sports teams have all contributed in making this a successful year.

Of particular note is the fact that St. John's launched its Media Arts and Technology Program this year. This program involved students throughout the school, using video and video production as part of the regular curriculum. Students, with the assistance of staff, produced a feature length video docudrama "Who the Heck Was Slaw Rebchuk Anyway?" This video was premiered at Towne Cinema on May 17. We are very proud of this achievement.

We are saying farewell to a vibrant, active group of student leaders who are graduating this year. We know that you will be successful and that your hard work and commitment will have paid off. A strong academic program together with hard work and perseverance have made you the graduates of 2001. We are confident that you will become contributing members of society. The pages of this yearbook will in part reflect the activities and the memories that are important to you.

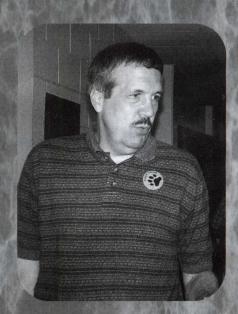

In particular, I would like to acknowledge the work of the yearbook committee. This group of students has worked hard and long to make sure that the yearbook is completed.

R. Suderman Principal

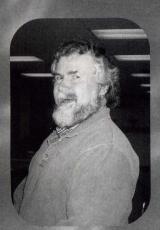

Vice - President: Candice Basisty President: Janice Espinola

Hey Senior high, Get ready for this school year. As your president and vice-president of student council, we have many unique, creative ideas for events for you guys. We plan to have lots of dances, the best christmas events, blood doner clinics, and total Tiger Pride during spirit week. Our motto is "You can't complain, if your not involved." Enjoy the year grads.

The Times That

Do It Yourself, This is the year how you

Our Exchange Student

"Words will never be enough to explain how lucky I was to be an exchange student in Winnipeg for a year. Money could never buy the experiences I had. And you will never realize the happiness I felt."

If I have to pick the most beautiful year in my life, I would say this was it. I had so many experiences that I have never had before. Winter is an example. It was my first winter. while I was dying in winter, I had so much snow to. Well Winnipeg taught me what cold is.

I loved my freedom at school. I could choose the subjects that I would like to learn, and I enjoyed learning something I liked. But, life will never be perfect, right? While I was enjoying my school schedule, I had to take history for a semester. It was interesting for me to learn about Canadian history, it made me have to read more to understand it though. Ehm... it wasn't fun anymore when I had a test. Even though I spent most of my time learning history, and I never had a high mark in that class. Finally after all the hard work I passed. It wasn't a

My Host Family had a big part in my wonderful experience. My host mom was being my real Canadian mom. They helped me so much to make it through the year. I don't know if I could have passed that year without all the support that they gave me.

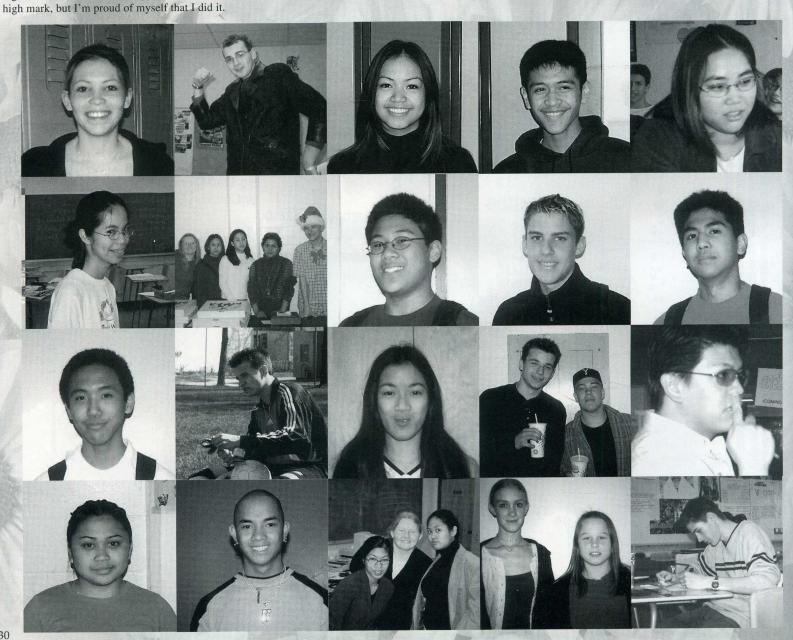

I would like to say thanx to all my friends who helped me improve my english. Thank for all the experiences you guys shared w/ me... "Don't Forget > Me"... Thanx to all my teachers who were always there for me, thanx for all the extra time you spent with me. Without any of my teachers I don't think I would have been able to get the "Book Award".

I am going for my goal now. I am going to university in Brisbane, Australia next year.

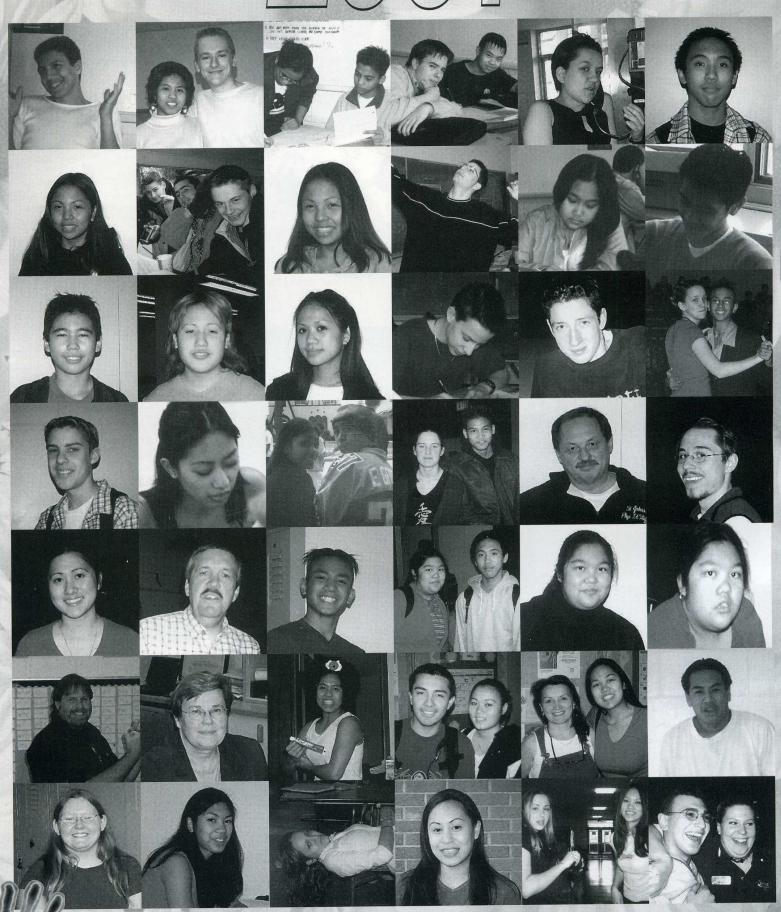

I have already been accepted to the university and plan on majoring in creative and advertising design.

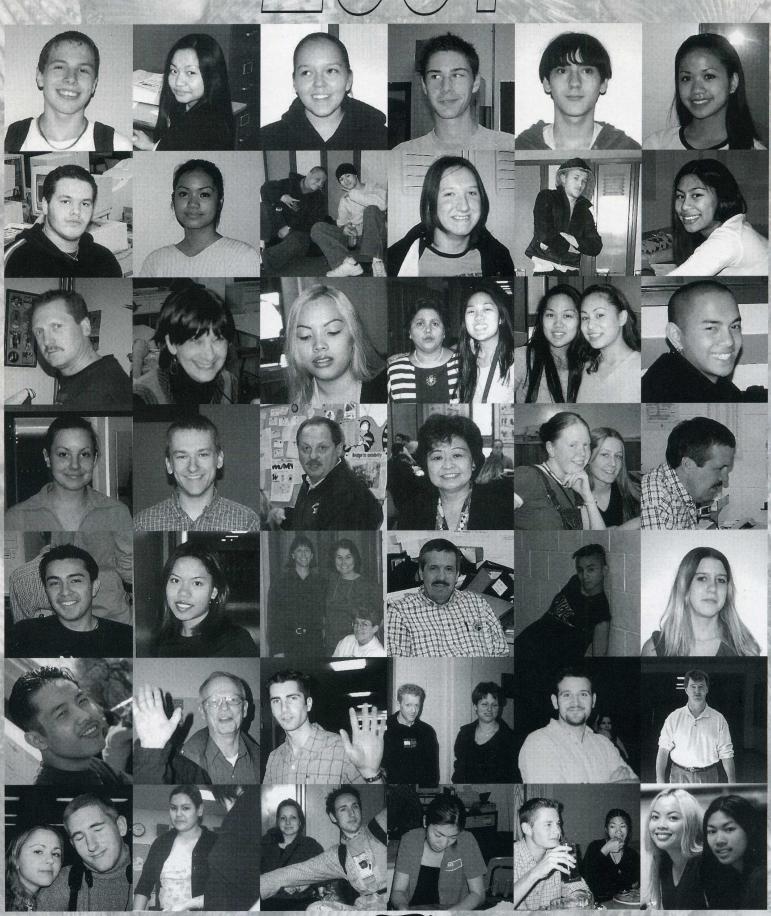

"Winnipeg gave so much to me, and all of u guys were a part of it, and I will always keep u in my heart."

To everyone who helped make this book a possibility, thank you. Mr. Blewett, I hope we didn't bother you too much. To the administrators thank you for letting the students take on such a big task. Mr. Silver I hope we didn't get in the way, but we always tried to clean up. To all the editors, thanks for finishing this, I can't wait to see what it looks like. You guys are what made this happen and I hope that in 20 years from now when you look at this you feel the pride and accomplishment that you have done something that will remain in this schools history forever. To the photographers (anyone and everyone who took pictures for us) it's cool to see the pictures you took published. To everyone who bought a yearbook, I hope you like it. To all the students, this is proof that if we put our minds to it, we can do any thing. Thank you to all the teachers for their support and guidance.

AARRGGHHHH!!!! Yes, the yearbook is finally finished! Never again will you hear me nagging you to hand in your baby pics. But hey, the grad section turn out pretty awesome. As for the sports pages, due to lack of pictures, I tried my best to put a little bit of pi-zaz and creativity into it.I want to thank Mr. S, Ms. G, and Ms. W, for providing me with the majority of team photos. (Athletes, we finally have a big section) I really hope it met your expectations. I can FINALLY GO HOME!!!

Fellow graduates,
We made it! This is our day!

Friends, Family, and Faculty,

Thank you all for being here today to celebrate with us on the grand finale of our high school career. Your presence is a reminder of the support you have shown us, not only in these last few crazy weeks, but throughout our days at St. John's High School. You have seen us through our bad times, good times, better times, and now, finally our best. Your love and support will never be forgotten.

Class of two thousand and one, look around! We are finally the ones with the funny costumes. We made it all the way, we get to sit in the reserve seats. We get to look behind at everyone gathered here to celebrate our academic, athletic, and overall achievements. This is truly a day to look back and remember all the people who we owe our thanks. I expect you all to give a big hug to every family member, friend, and even teachers who came to see you today. What would we be without these people, who, just as they are now, were behind us every step of the way?

This is a day of joy, a day of excitement, a day for us to hold our heads high, and, like the kings and queens we are, just suck the congratulations out of everyone we meet. This kind of day doesn't come around too often guys. I suggest we take advantage of it. We have worked so hard for this, to make this day a reality, and so we must demand recognition. I guess I'm eaggeratind a bit. I suppose we still need to practice the virtue of humilty, even today. But lets not kid ourselves; I do believe it's almost time for party?

However, a huge part of this day does involve looking back, and leaving behind all that we have to come to know in life, because the world we are moving into is spinning very fast and no matter what Physics taught us, I don't know if gravity will be enough to keep us grounded. From what I hear, the world is getting messier and messier. I guess it's our turn to go out into it and try to clean things up.

Iknow that today many of us will be laughing and hugging, and then crying and hugging, and then laughing because we're crying, and then we will start to sound a little like donkeys. You know, the combination of laughing and crying sometimes does that, but it's okay to sound like a donkey today. And I know, we're Tigers, but I don't think any other school's mascot is a donkey, so I think its free reign. No matter what we sound like, what we go on to do, and whether we like it or not, we will forever be tigers, and we will wear our buttons with pride, wherever we go.

So good-bye cafeteria, and good-bye jammed lockers. Good-bye morning announcements, and good-bye little newsletters. We never again have to hear that all successful students attend all classes, arrive on time, and complete all assignments. No more presto pizza on Thursday's or Wednesday's or Thursday's. It's off into the world where we have to cook our own food, keep our own scheduals and, if we haven't figures out how to cook our own food, we'll have to order our own pizza. But then again, look on the bright side - we can have pizza any day of the week

I found a passage form Shakespeare in which he is optimistic, so I thought I'd better inform you of it since many of you will now avoid him for the rest of your life. It goes:

Sing no more ditties, sing no more Of dumps so dull and heavy, The fraud of men was ever so, Since summer first was leafy, Then sigh not so, but let them go, And be you blithe and bonny, Converting all your sounds of woe Into 'Hey nonny, nonny!'

PRESIDENTIAL SPEECH

Good Morning students, staff and family members. I'm Janice Espinola, Student council President.

And I'm Candice Basisty, Student Council vice President. This has been one awesome year. There were so many events planned for the students that sometimes it seemed impossible for us to keep up with them. We fall back on a quote that says, "Help people who need it and receive help when you need it." And without the help of certain people, our plans were made possible.

Mr. Teixeria was our student council supervisor. His push and shove (and sense of humour), made our tasks flow easily and sometimes tested our stubborness. Thank you.

To Ms. Suderman and Mr. Wedlake. The two of you are indeed the true leaders of this school. You have given us every possible oppurtunity to experiment things, even when our ideas sounded far-fetched. Thank you.

To Eloina Cleodoro, our council secretary and Michael Janciw, our council tresurer. We have come to terms that we couldn't do everything ourselves. There couldn't have been two better people chosen to do the job and to help pick up our slack. Thank you.

We'd like to thank our dedicated student council members, the ones who were the heart of the behind the scenes of every event held. The ones who attended every meeting and made our jobs a lot simpler, and to the one guy willing to volunteer for everything and anything, Scott Porteous, we thank you.

What intrigues me the most is how much we, as a school, have received endless compliments for the amount of school spirit that we portray.

I remember attending a meeting with a room full of student council representatives, from schools across the the city. We disscussed problems involved in our schools, and they spoke spoke of how hard it was to hold a dance because of the negitive responses from students, how low their school spirit was, and how difficult it was to receive teacher support. We found it hard to relate to them, for the simple fact that these problems never occured at St. John's. In that meeting we realized how great our school is. A school can only be good as the people in it. Juding by the amount of students who came out and participated, proved this right.

Throughout this year we have held pep rallies, dances, spirit week events, blood donor clinics and the best gym riot this school has received in years. The gym was always filled with students who didn't have to be there but wanted to be there.

I'd like to leave you with a famous quote, "To know where you're going one must know where you have been". So we'd like to remind you,

If you wanna be somebody, If you wanna go somewhere, Then you better wake up and pay attention.

Graduating class of 2001, we have a head start, because you have been to St. John's high school. It has been an honor to be your vice-president

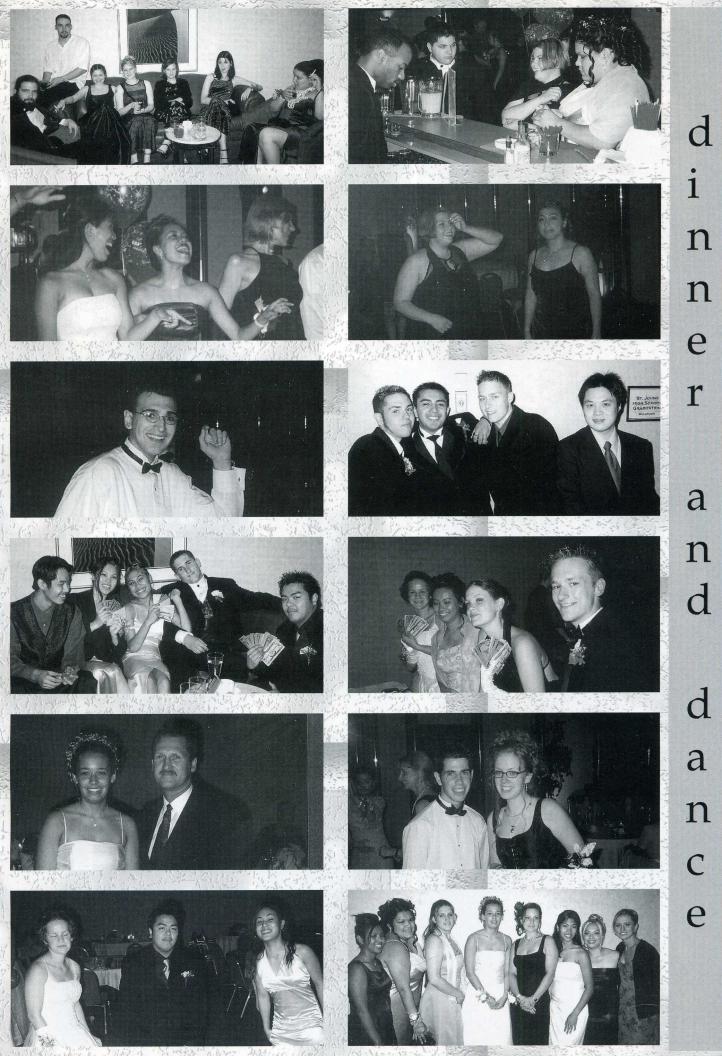

And it has been the upmost privillage to be the president of your graduating year. We love you and we'll miss you! Thank you.
