Costa Rica Quotes

"The travel to Costa Rica was magnificent, and the places we stayed at, and the places we went were beautiful to see. I hope many more students decide to go on traveling trips with the school in the future, cause it can be a once in a life time opportunity!" Logan

"More people should be involved with these school activities! It was a once in a life time experience, amazing views, beautiful land. Something like that you can never take back!" Erin

"It was a trip I'll always remember that was made even more amazing because I was able to share the experience with my friends." Chelsea

"I'm still completely in love with Costa Rica. It is such a lush, laid back place. Every town we stopped in, I pictured myself living there. I'm still in touch with Matias, our Coffee Guru, and he's supplying me with delicious organic coffee from his plantation in La Fortuna. To me, it felt like we were a group of travellers, exchanging stories, soaking in the atmosphere. Lovely. I know I'll go back. It really is full of Pure Life." Ms. Lachance

"Costa Rica was the biggest learning experience of my life. We got so many different things, and learned unforgettable experiences from the other side of the world. Being miles away really makes you realize how lucky we have it here. Amazing trip." Katie

"Costa Rica was a trip full of things I might of never done on my own in life. I've learned I'll never go Zip lining again and now appreciate flushing toilet paper down the toilet and I'll always be able to laugh about the times I shared with my friends." Melinda

"It was a fun trip that we got to on with friends and two teachers. The sights were amazing and the food was delicious. We got to meet new friends too. I had a fun time that I won't forget." Kayshia

"I couldn't believe the dogs understood Spanish." Mr. Bravo

"Costa Rica was a chance of a lifetime. Despite hesitating to go I am glad I did. It was a great learning experience." Monika

"I got Mono...missed my friends and my family and still loved it." Lyndon

Valedictory Address - Nicole Napady

Good morning parents, teachers, principals, guardians, grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins, friends, and everyone in between. Thank you all for sharing this memorable day with us as we receive our high school diplomas. Also thank you for helping us get this far by teaching us, helping us with homework, and just being there to support us in everything that we have done. Looking at all of the graduates faces, I'm sure you can tell who is scared, who is excited, and who is just relieved to have come this far. We are finally graduating. We can finally see that there is more to life than what goes on inside of St. John's High School's walls.

I'm sure that out of all the things that have happened in these past few years, the moment that everyone remembers most is when we first entered the world of high school. I am sure that most of us were so afraid of all the new faces that it made us just want to go home. At the same time we felt as though we were older, maybe even cooler. The friends that remained in elementary must have been extremely jealous of us. I remember on my first day I followed two girls that looked like they were also new to St. John's. I hoped that they would take me in the direction of my classroom.

I was surprised to find out that they were in my classroom with me and I was so happy that I did not have to find my way there by myself. At St. John's, none of us had to find our way by alone. Whether it was the first day of school, finding friends, or even deciding what path is right for us after high school. We have all received some kind of help from the people around us. When we entered St. Johns we were afraid of starting something new. We thought that we had overcome the fear of the unknown, but now as we are leaving high school, we are all in our own way just as afraid to be going somewhere that we know nothing about. A strange place full of bills, houses, careers and maybe even children. A place that people refer to as; life.

There have been many memories at high school that will stay with us forever. One day in the future we will be telling our children about these days. Even as we look back at grade seven and eight, it seems like a lifetime ago. Like all those times we would try to sneak onto the second floor at lunch time just because we knew that we were not allowed, and then we would get caught and have to deal with the consequences. The unlucky ones would have to write a two-page letter, eight words per line for Ms. Tourangeau. I remember spending all of my allowances at Tiger Square back in the good old days when they sold chocolate and other sugary items. In our classes, we would sit and talk about anything and everything, as long as it had nothing to do with what we were learning about. When we were not busy talking, we would share our private jokes with each other (like the monacle man dance or any others that people have come up with). We all know that the best jokes are the ones when people that are not our best friends have no clue what we are talking about. As these memories were being made, many of us wished for our graduation day. The day that we would be free from this prison, but now that this day has come we are all left wishing that the days of endless classes and pounds of homework would stay with us forever.

Even as we step into life, we will miss many things about high school. I know I will miss seeing the same faces everyday, sitting on the metal grate outside of the school that kept us warm in the winter and cool in the summer. I will miss listening to the teachers tell us that they are not going to chase us for homework. I will miss being chased for homework by the teachers that said they would not chase us. I will miss the last day of school, and the days before school starts when we are out shopping for school supplies. I will miss everything about high school, however the knowledge that our teachers have given us will stay with us until we are old and lose our memories. I mean wiser and choose to forget certain information. I found an interesting quote a few weeks ago in a book I was reading when I was trying to find a topic for the best assignment ever. The research papers. BOM BOM BOMMMMM. It was in a book on Buddhism and it went like this. "When I am gone, do not say that you have no teachers. Whatever I have taught you, let that be your teachers when I am gone." Our teachers have taught us everything we will need to know for our future, and although we may never see them again, they will be with us forever in the lessons that they have taught us.

Once again I would like to thank everyone that is here because you are all very special people to us. You are all here during one of the most important days in our lives. No matter what happens, you will always stay in our hearts.

If I could pass on anything to my fellow graduates, I would like to share with them a lesson that I have learnt by watching my mom. If you work hard, trust others, and believe in yourself you will be happy and successful in your own way. Finally you should wake up each morning and say to yourself this is a new day, anything can happen. The world is mine.

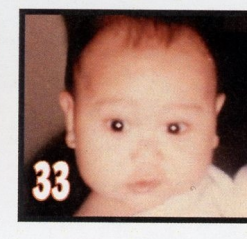

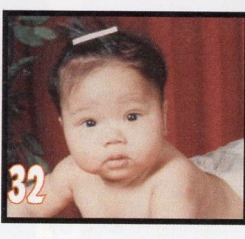

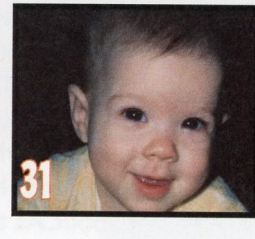

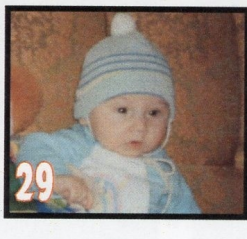

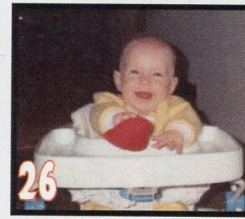

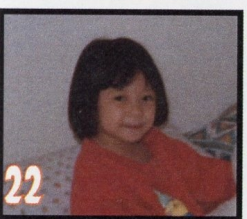

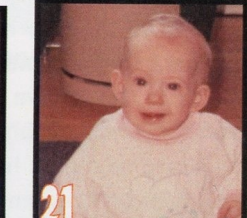

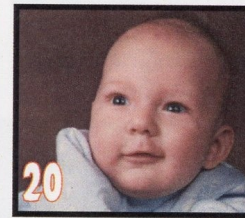

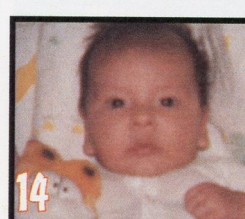

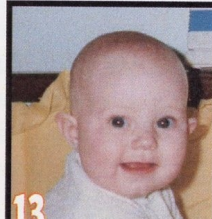

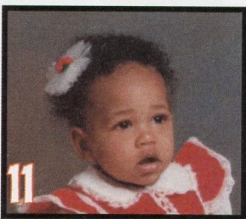

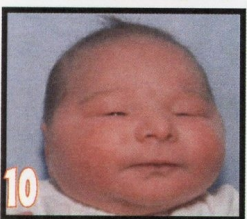

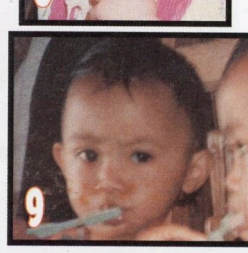

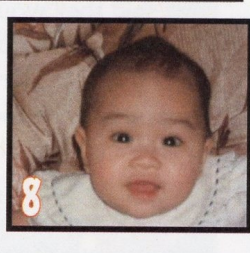

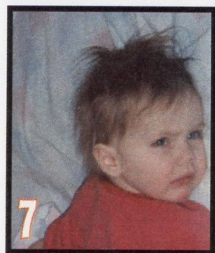

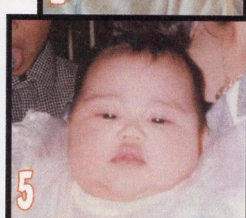

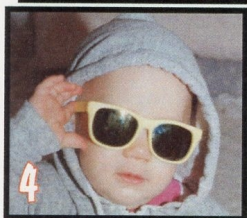

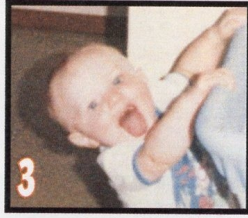

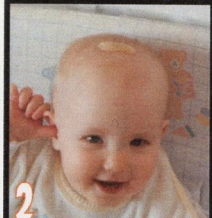

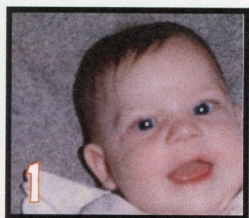

Congratulations graduates of 2009, I will miss you all. We are all ready to start our lives, and we will always be proud to be the mighty mighty tigers.

Class of 2009

Melissa Daly

I am finally finished and am graduating from St. John's High School. My last year went by so fast. I made it. I would like to thank my parents and Tonni. Teachers were a pain but they were fun. I am the class of 2009. I'll always have Tiger Pride.

Justin Niemczak

I would like to thank my family and teachers for their support through high school, as well as all of my coaches for their guidance on the field.

Alysa Simard

So many people have contributed to the person I have become today and for that I want to say thank you. Especially to my family, friends, teachers and Justin. "Buy me the ocean and paint it with pretty stars, and sail me to something, take me anywhere but here."

Crystal Strong

I'm glad to say high school is finally over! I can't explain what it's taken to get here, but I'd like to thank the few special people who helped to get me here today. Good bye St. John's!
